

Creating Global Leaders and a Global Community through I-House Global Scholars

IUPUI is dedicated to graduating students who are prepared for the globally interdependent world of the 21st century.

I-House residents become global leaders by:

- Developing intercultural understanding and communication skills through hands-on living and learning
- Planning international programs on campus for all students, such as weekly “Culture Hours”
- Leading IUPUI’s vibrant International Club, and
- Building bridges with global organizations locally through service and partnerships.

You can help I-House build leaders who will make a difference globally and locally

With the 2016 programming expansion, I-House seeks to implement new initiatives that will sustain and enhance international life at IUPUI. The I-House Global Scholar program will empower second-year I-House residents to lead international programming while building their leadership skills.

- Many promising leaders leave the campus housing community after their first year, due to cheaper costs off campus.
- The I-House Global Scholar program will provide a $2,500 housing stipend to enable campus housing residents to stay a second year in I-House and facilitate enhanced programming for their fellow residents throughout the year.
- Ideally, two I-House Global Scholars will be named each year:
  - One American student who desires a global learning experience
  - One international resident returning to I-House

Support an I-House Global Scholar

Your contribution of any amount will help launch the I-House Global Scholar program!

- A $2,500 one-time gift can fully fund one I-House Global Scholar

Visit www.myiu.org/give-now, select your preferred Gift option, and type “I-House” in the search box. All gifts received in 2016-17 will go to the I-House Global Scholars program.
